Be sure we receive your order
by May 4th so your Mother's Day cards arrive on time!

Mother's Day gifts may not yet be on your mind, but for thousands of women living in domestic violence shelters, the holiday isn't even on their radar. These brave women are at greatest risk of violence just after leaving their abusive relationships; their minds are on their safety, their children, and starting their lives over with what few belongings and dollars they've managed to save.

When you donate to JWI's Flower Project, we send beautiful bouquets and financial literacy resources to more than 200 domestic violence shelters on Mother's Day, and personalized Mother's Day cards to any honorees you choose.

Beyond showing women in crisis that they're not forgotten, your gift helps them build the strength and skills to put down new roots, grow toward independence, and bloom into a beautiful new life.

A close-up photograph of a hand holding a large, vibrant bouquet of pink peonies. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing bright yellow centers. The background is a light-colored wooden surface.

After violence,
help a woman bloom.
